1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. Guidelines for Applicants

Whereas the Law Society of Scotland (the “Society”), under the Solicitors (Scotland) Act 1980, is responsible for regulating the qualification of persons for entry to the solicitors’ profession, the Society has issued this statement to set out the requirements for the accreditation of universities as providers (“Providers”) of a Scottish Exempting Degree as qualification, together with other training, for entry to the solicitors’ profession.

The Scottish Exempting Degree will not be recognised for the purposes of entry to the solicitors’ profession until academic session 2011/2012, irrespective of the date of accreditation and whether that takes place before commencement of academic session 2010/2011 or not.

This document sets out for potential applicants (“Applicants”) of The Scottish Exempting Degree the context of the Degree as an option for fulfilment of the Foundation Programme of the route to qualification as a Scottish solicitor, the standards and the accreditation process. It contains the relevant information as regards the Outcomes themselves, the accreditation procedures to be applied by the Society and the monitoring procedures to be performed thereafter. Should any further information be required, please contact in the first instance the Education and Training Policy Department of the Society:

1.3. Scottish Exempting Degree and Prior Arrangements

In order to protect the interest of students who have enrolled on the Exempting Scottish LLB Degree prior to the coming into existence of the Scottish Exempting Degree in academic session 2011/2012, existing accreditation of providers offering an Exempting Scottish LLB Degree as qualification, together with other training, for entry to the solicitors’ profession, will continue to be recognised for entry to Professional Education and Training (PEAT) Stage 1 (which itself comes into effect in September 2011).

The Scottish Exempting Degree comes into existence from academic session 2011/2012 and the Exempting Scottish LLB Degree will no longer be accepted as qualification for entry to the solicitors’ profession for new entrants to a degree programme from the start of the 2012/2013 academic year.

1.4. Background

1.4.1. The Foundation Programme is a compulsory element of the professional training programme for solicitors in Scotland. These guidelines refer to the Scottish Exempting Degree which is recognised for the purposes of achievement of the Foundation Programme. It was introduced following a full-scale review of the route to qualification in Scotland between late 2006 and early 2009.

1.4.2. An academic programme of study is required to ensure that entrants to the profession can demonstrate the knowledge, skills and values and attitudes required for entry to PEAT 1.

1.4.3. The Scottish Exempting Degree represents a means by which the Foundation Programme may be achieved. Flexible options for the Scottish Exempting Degree will mean that there will be a wide variation in the forms of study undertaken in the Scottish Exempting Degree. The Scottish Exempting Degree will continue to be, as the accredited Exempting Scottish LLB was, a liberal arts degree which also meets the Outcomes for entry to PEAT 1. PEAT 1 will be a more standardised form of professional education, regardless of the undergraduate study undertaken, in preparation for the work-based period of training as a solicitor.

1.5. Relationship between the Foundation Programme (Scottish Exempting Degree), PEAT 1, PEAT 2 and Trainee CPD

1.5.1. Whilst the Scottish Exempting Degree can lead to many things, for those who ultimately qualify as solicitors, professional education and training does begin on the first day of the Foundation Programme, and end with successful completion of the last cycle of CPD in a practitioner’s career. It is essential that everyone involved in the process treats the years of education and training during Foundation Programme, PEAT 1 and PEAT 2 as a holistic process, in which all elements are designed to contribute to the professional education of solicitors.

1.5.2. The Scottish Exempting Degree comprises Outcomes. These Outcomes are divided into three areas: (i) knowledge areas covering knowledge and sources of law; (ii) skills including subject-specific skills, general transferable intellectual skills and key personal skills and (iii) values and attitudes.

1.5.3. PEAT 1 should thus be regarded as the programme that not only builds on the Foundation Programme, but specifically enables more effective learning to take place during both PEAT 1 and PEAT 2, through the Core Outcomes and PEAT 2 Outcomes. It is not an academic course but a programme of professional study and performance, with values that are significantly different from those of the Scottish Exempting Degree. It gives students the opportunity to reflect on that learning in a situation where there is the opportunity to learn close to the world of practice through simulation but free from the implications of live client work.

1.5.4. The Scottish Exempting Degree and PEAT 1 stages may be combined as one course, and one combined application for accreditation submitted to the Society on that basis. In this situation these guidelines, and the PEAT 1 Accreditation Guidelines, require to be met.

1.5.5. PEAT 2 is a 24 month period of in-office training, carried out under the supervision of a Scottish solicitor. It must take place after successful completion of PEAT 1.
Trainee CPD will be undertaken as part of PEAT 2, from 2011 replacing the Professional Competence Course (PCC). Transitional arrangements will apply to trainee solicitors qualifying up to September 2013, during which time the PCC can be deemed to qualify as Trainee CPD. However, the Society invites early applications for accreditation of Trainee CPD from late 2010, and wishes to prioritise its introduction. Separate accreditation guidelines will be issued in relation to Trainee CPD between June and September 2010. Trainee CPD will lead naturally into solicitors’ CPD upon qualification.

2. APPLICANTS

2.1 Core Requirements

2.1.1 The Society will recognise an Applicant as a Provider of the Scottish Exempting Degree if the following requirements are met:

(a) The Society is satisfied that the Applicant meets the criteria set out in this document, and the Appendices to this document.

(b) The Scottish Exempting Degree is one which satisfies external examiners (or their equivalent) that, in addition to the areas of performance set out in the benchmark standards of the QAA or as set out by any equivalent or successor body, students of that programme of study should have demonstrated the Scottish Exempting Degree Outcomes as set out in Appendix A.

(c) Specifically, the Programme of study is based on the Outcomes that will be issued by the Education and Training Committee from time to time, within the parameters of this document.

(d) The body awarding the degree must have degree awarding powers conferred by the Privy Council or with the authority of the Scottish Government.

2.1.2 Prior to a formal application for accreditation, Applicants are encouraged to contact the Society for clarification of the meaning of the requirement and standards in this document and its Appendices.

3. SCOTTISH EXEMPTING DEGREE AIMS, STRUCTURE, CONTENT AND RESOURCES

3.1 Aims

The Scottish Exempting Degree encapsulates core values underpinning Scottish legal education and is intended to:
• Foster the culture and values of the Scottish legal tradition – recognising the fundamentally distinct nature of Scots law and the Scottish legal system, and its adherence to high ethical standards – whilst teaching this comparatively in its practical UK, EU and International law context
• Adopt best educational practice and take as its core educational concept the benchmark of competence whilst promoting excellence
• Be of a consistent quality across different Providers, fit for its purpose throughout Scotland
• Be flexible and open to innovation, particularly in methods of teaching and course delivery and the use of ICT
• Ensure and promote equality and diversity
• Inspire individuals capable of creativity, challenging and being challenged on legal thinking, critical thinking, and flexibility
• Through all of the above, prepare the student fully and properly for entry to PEAT 1

3.2 Basic structure

The Scottish Exempting Degree comprises a set of Outcomes covering knowledge, skills and values and attitudes, all of which are compulsory, the detail of which can be found in Appendix A to this document.

3.3 Models of Programme

3.3.1 The following models are appropriate for the Scottish Exempting Degree:

Full-time Stand-alone Scottish Exempting Degree

The Scottish Exempting Degree may be offered by an Applicant as a full-time Programme prior to commencement of PEAT 1.

Part-time/Distance learning Stand-alone Scottish Exempting Degree

The Scottish Exempting Degree may be offered by an applicant in a variety of part-time or distance learning modes which should comprise the equivalent of two years full time equivalent study.

The following three forms of teaching and learning (open, distance and e-learning) present special challenges and opportunities for both students and Providers. However, it is essential that Applicants adhere to sensible and research-proven guidelines for good practice in these modes of teaching and learning. It is expected that Applicants will, in their Programme documentation, demonstrate that they have followed guidelines for good practice in these areas. Many such sets of guidelines exist. Appendix F lists some of these in the area of e-learning and distance learning.

Integration with PEAT 1
The Scottish Exempting Degree may be integrated with a PEAT 1 Programme. Any Applicant wishing to offer an integrated Programme is required to meet the requirements of the Accreditation Guidelines for both the Scottish Exempting Degree and PEAT 1.

3.3.2 The knowledge, skills and values and attitudes learning outcomes should be taught pervasively throughout the Programme.

3.3.3 In addition to other methods of assessment, Applicants will be expected to place emphasis on practical problem solving.

3.4 Curriculum structures and Matrix

3.4.1 Curriculum structures

Within the chosen model, Applicants will be asked to describe their Programme design in detail. The Scottish Exempting Degree must:

- In the case of a student studying a graduate entry two-year accelerated degree, include study of 180 SCQF credits towards meeting the Outcomes within a degree programme of not fewer than 240 credits of law overall taught at SCQF level 7/8 or above
- In the case of a student studying an Ordinary degree, include study of 180 SCQF credits towards meeting the Outcomes and 240 SCQF credits in law within a degree programme of not fewer than 360 credits taught at level 7/8 or above
- In the case of a student studying an Honours degree, include study of 180 SCQF credits towards meeting the Outcomes and 240 SCQF credits in law within a degree programme of not fewer than 480 credits taught at level 7/8 or above.

3.4.2 Matrix

There are a number of possible methods of Programme design, curriculum structure, and learning and teaching methods. Appendix B is also a set of educational practice guidelines which provide more detail on what it is the Society intends to do by introducing the Foundation Programme.

Applicants must demonstrate how the proposed Programme is to be delivered through the provision of a matrix which maps the Outcomes to the curriculum structure.

In addition, the matrix must be supported by statements in relation to:

(i) learning and teaching methods
(ii) use of resources
(iii) assessment methods
This forms part of a wider set of criteria which must be met, as outlined in Appendix C (General Accreditation Standards) and Appendix D (Specific Accreditation Standards, incorporating further guidance on the matrix and supporting statements).

4. ACCREDITATION EVENTS, PROCEDURES AND DOCUMENTS

4.1 Application procedure

4.1.1 Applicants should give to the Panel Secretary early written intimation of their intention to apply for accreditation and in any case intimate this in writing no later than the end of October preceding the session in which it is intended to offer the course. There is no prescribed format for the early written intimation which must be adopted, although the Panel Secretary must be advised of the name of the contact person within the Applicant’s organisation and the approximate date on which the Applicant hopes to deliver the proposed course for the first time. A deadline for receipt by the Panel of the full application will be fixed by mutual agreement. The deadline will normally be at least three months from the date of intimation. It is realistic to expect that the whole process of accreditation will take 6-9 months from the date of intimation. An Applicant may not deliver any part of a Programme before accreditation has been granted nor any course comprising PEAT 1 elements before accreditation of those elements has been granted and in the case of Scottish Exempting Degree Programmes which may be accredited in advance of the commencement of academic session 2010/2011, the Programme should not be implemented until session 2011/2012, as the Scottish Exempting Degree will not be recognised until then.

4.1.2 Applicants must co-operate fully with the Panel not merely on accreditation and monitoring issues, but in all aspects of Programme provision.

4.1.3 Applicants may decide to submit an application for accreditation prior to, or subsequent to, internal validation of the course(s). The approach taken is at the Applicant’s own risk and, in the event that a subsequent internal validation requires material changes to the course(s), the Applicant shall be required to contact the Panel Secretary within a reasonable timescale. The Panel Secretary will reconvene the Panel. All accreditations will be conditional upon successful internal validation.

4.2 Application documentation

4.2.1 Appendices C, D and G provide details on what is required to be submitted.
4.3 Scottish Exempting Degree Accreditation Panel

4.3.1 Membership

The Panel will consist of not less than three and not more than four members. The members of the Panel will have such experience as the Education and Training Committee at its sole discretion considers relevant but will include:

- one member of Council or one of its associated Committees
- one solicitor or advocate, with experience of practice
- one academic representative with experience of offering a Scottish Exempting LLB Degree
- one representative with experience in providing a legal education programme in another jurisdiction

In some circumstances individuals may be able to bring more than one category of experience to the Panel, it is balancing the experience of the Panel which is of prime importance.

The quorum for all meetings of the Panel will be three members, although it will be competent for a member of the Panel to take part in the accreditation remotely in the event of unexpected circumstances (either by early provision of information for the Panel and reference afterwards, or by conference calling with the Panel itself).

Should any member have any connection to an Applicant seeking accreditation and whose application is under consideration by the Panel, then that member will declare that interest to the Panel in advance of the Panel’s deliberations and take no part in those deliberations or any voting.

At all meetings a representative of the Education and Training Policy Department of the Society will be in attendance and will act as Panel Secretary.

4.3.2 Confirmation of Panel

The Applicant will be asked to confirm in writing their acceptance of the proposed composition of the Panel that will consider the application. This is to allow the Applicant the opportunity to respond on issues they may have in relation to the Panel and its composition, the skills and experience represented, conflicts, or any other reasonable cause. If such issues are raised the Education and Training Committee will use reasonable endeavours to ensure such issues are addressed and will attempt to agree a Panel acceptable to the Applicant, but without prejudice to the Education and Training Committee’s discretion referred to in section 4.3.1. The Society notes an application cannot be processed until such time as an appropriate Panel is agreed.

4.3.3 Powers

The Panel will have the power to investigate and make recommendations to the Education and Training Committee and the Council of the Society about all aspects of provision. The Panel may recommend:

- Award of Accreditation
- Award of Conditional Accreditation
- Refusal of Accreditation
- Renewal of Accreditation
- Award of Conditional Renewal
- Suspension of Accreditation
- Termination of Accreditation

In the case of ‘Award of Accreditation’, the Panel will attach standard conditions to all recommendations to accredit which will comprise:

- An obligation on the Provider to notify the Society of material reductions in the resources available to students on the Scottish Exempting Degree
- Notification of material changes to the curriculum design
- Notification of changes to external examiners
- Submission of annual reports by each of the external examiners of the Programme covering the issues identified in Appendix E.
- Submission of an Annual Report, which is to take the form of a critical self-review.

In addition:

- At the discretion of the Panel, the Applicant may be invited to attend a meeting with the Panel (please note, however, that the Education and Training Committee may request a meeting to discuss the Programme at any time).
- The Panel may continue its consideration of an application, pending the receipt of further documentation and information from the Applicant, before making any decision regarding accreditation.

- The Panel is also entitled to attach special conditions.

The Panel Secretary will write to the Programme Director as soon as possible to advise of the Panel's recommendation, and in the case of recommendations of refusal, suspension or termination, will give the Panel's reasons. In the case of conditional accreditation, a timescale will be given within which the conditions must be fulfilled.

4.4 Period of Accreditation

Applicants will be accredited for four years in the first instance.

4.5 Variation of Period of Accreditation

4.5.1 The Education and Training Committee will streamline the reapplication for accreditation process following the initial accreditation to 31 January in the year after accreditation lapses. In order to manage multiple re-accreditation processes, the Education and Training Committee may vary the period of accreditation.

4.5.2 The first accreditation applies from the date the Society approves the Panel's recommendation to accredit and the course may run from the next academic session (but no earlier than the academic session 2011/2012).

4.6 Accreditation Fees

4.6.1 Applicants are required to pay a fee of £3000 (plus VAT) upon initial application for accreditation.

4.6.2 A further annual fee of £250 (plus VAT) is payable by Providers in the year following accreditation and each year until such time as accreditation ends or a new application for accreditation is submitted. This fee is to cover the costs of visits, processing Annual Reports, dealing with enquiries and variations to accreditation during each year of accreditation.

4.6.3 The Society may from time to time vary the levels of accreditation fees.

4.7 Annual Report

4.7.1 The Society wishes to use the first year of accreditation under new guidelines as an evaluation year. On a suitable date in the second semester of session 2011/2012, the Education and Training Committee will authorise either the Panel, or the Panel Secretary to consider the first year of each Provider's accreditation. The Provider will host the event which is held to (i) feedback on the accreditation and monitoring process in the first year and how it can be improved and (ii) formally propose changes intended to apply to the new course.

4.7.2 Thereafter, submission of subsequent Annual Reports (in the form of a critical self review) are streamlined for all providers to 31 January in the year following the conclusion of each academic session.

4.7.3 The Annual Report is a critical self review and will be informed by the Provider’s own Programme appraisal processes (and see also Appendix D) and will contain the following sections:

- Summary of annual programme appraisal
- Details of feedback received from students
- Copy of monitoring visit report (if applicable)
- Update on alterations to the Programme. Each Provider’s Programme may evolve during the period of accreditation. As long as alterations to the Programme are not material they do not require the prior approval of the Panel. However, such alterations must be reported to the Panel in the Annual Report.
- Future plans for the Programme. Any material changes to the Programme will require the prior approval of the Education and Training Committee and such approval should be applied for at the time of the Annual Report. The Committee may decide to revert the matter to the Panel on its behalf.
- The Panel Secretary should be contacted when advice is required.

4.7.4 The Society reserves the right to request the attendance of a representative of the Provider to discuss any variances from the standards of accreditation which come to light as a result of the Annual Report or any other means.

4.8 Procedures for Renewal of Accreditation

4.8.1 Every Provider at the end of the third year of accreditation must intimate its intention to apply for renewal of accreditation. Thereafter, every fourth year the Provider must apply for renewal of accreditation. The fee will be notified to Providers in advance of the date the formal intimation in writing is received. The Panel will review the original accreditation, the Annual Reports of the Provider and the reports of any monitoring visits. On the basis of this evidence they will make one of the following recommendations and inform the Provider of the recommendation:

- Renewal of Accreditation
  This will be valid for a further four years.

- Conditional Renewal
The Panel may set conditions before renewal of accreditation is granted to a Provider. These will be set out in writing, together with a timescale and deadline for the conditions to be fulfilled by the Provider.

- Suspension
  The Panel may suspend the accreditation of a Provider, on the evidence presented to it at renewal. The Panel’s reasons will be set out in writing to the Programme Director. The Panel will set conditions for the renewal of accreditation, and deadlines for the conditions to be met.

- Termination
  The Society may terminate the accreditation of a Provider, on the evidence presented to it at renewal. The Society’s reasons will be set out in writing to the Programme Director. It should be noted that the Panel may terminate the accreditation of a Provider at any time other than at point of renewal if it considers that there is evidence that:

  - Continued accreditation would not be in the best interests of the educational aims of the professional training regime nor the students currently taking the Programme with the Provider; or
  - The level of tuition or administration or accommodation or any other aspect of the Programme has fallen to an unacceptable standard.

4.9 Appeal against all Panel Recommendations

Providers may appeal against any recommendation of the Panel. They may do so by writing to the Council of the Society, setting out their grounds of appeal, within 21 days of receipt of the Panel’s Report. The matter will then be laid before the Council for their consideration and disposal. The Admissions Regulations will allow appeals against Council decisions.

5. MONITORING EVENTS, PROCEDURES AND DOCUMENTS

5.1 Purpose of visits

The Society has powers to visit and inspect Programme provision. This could be as part of the original accreditation application, a matter of course or in response to an issue disclosed in the Annual Report. The purpose of monitoring visits is threefold:

- To verify information given to the Panel regarding accommodation, library and ICT facilities
• To gain a sense of the quality of the teaching, learning and formative and summative assessment taking place on the Provider’s Programme
• To ensure parity of quality in training across the range of Providers

5.2 Usual notice
The Society must give the Provider four weeks’ notice of the visit, and the procedures set out below will operate pre-, during and post-visit. In academic session 2011/2012, this being the first year of the Scottish Exempting Degree as well as the first year of Programme provision for all providers, this visit will take place according to paragraph 4.7.1 above. Subsequent visits will be at the discretion of the Society.

5.3 Short notice
On cause shown, a representative of the Education and Training Committee will have the power to visit a Provider at shorter notice, in which case the procedures set out below do not apply. This power would be applied by the Society only where there is evidence that there may be a serious and potentially ongoing failure in standards on the Programme, as these have been agreed at accreditation. As referred to above, this could be disclosed by an Annual Report.

5.4 Pre-visit documentation
In addition to the documentation supplied by the Provider at accreditation the Society may ask for any other documentation to be supplied prior to the visit, no later than a week prior to the visit.

5.5 Procedure for visiting

5.5.1 Pre-visit
At least four weeks before the visit the Society will inform the Provider of its intention to visit. The representative of the Education and Training Committee may either stipulate which teaching session(s) they would like to visit, or arrange this by mutual agreement with the Provider. The Provider must give precise details of the teaching session(s) to be visited, including all relevant teaching or assessment documentation.

5.5.2 Duration
The visit should last no more than one day, and may be only a morning or afternoon visit. It is important that the visit is kept as informal as possible. The visit is an opportunity for the representative of the Education and Training Committee to scrutinise educational provision and student achievement; but it is also an opportunity for Providers to bring to the notice of the Society exceptional work by students or aspects of innovative Programme design and delivery. It is essentially an occasion for dialogue with, as well as oversight by, the Society.

5.5.3 Activities
During this time the representative of the Education and Training Committee may:

- Visit a class and, if the class involves face-to-face teaching, sit in on the lecture, tutorial or workshop. The representative of the Education and Training Committee is not expected to interrupt the teaching, but to remain as much as possible in the background.
- Talk to students after the class about their experience of the class, as well as their wider experience of the Programme, and review their work. The representative of the Education and Training Committee may request to speak to students on the Programme without the presence of tutors or the Programme Director.
- Discuss with the Programme Director any issues that may have arisen in the course of the visit.

5.5.4 Post-visit
The representative of the Education and Training Committee will draw up a report on their visit, a copy of which will be addressed to the Programme Director. In the report the representative of the Education and Training Committee will specify aspects of Programme provision that:

- Met or exceeded the standards acceptable to the Society.
- Could be improved in some form or another.
- Must be urgently addressed by the Provider. Failure to do so may result in a recommendation that accreditation be suspended or terminated.

5.6 Report to Education and Training Committee

5.6.1 The Education and Training Policy Department will collect quantitative and qualitative data on the various outcomes of all Scottish Exempting Degree Programmes. On the basis of this, and because the Scottish Exempting Degree itself is a new course from academic session 2011/2012, all Providers will receive a visit in the first year as referred to in sections 4.7.1 and 5.2 above. Thereafter Providers will supply an Annual Report (see section 4.7 above). Those processes will result in annual recommendations by the Education and Training Policy Department to the Education and Training Committee regarding the following matters:
• The appraisal mechanisms of the Providers, and whether these give the Society sufficiently full information about the nature and achievement of the Programmes on offer
• The achievement by the students of the Scottish Exempting Degree Outcomes, including areas of strength and areas for improvement
• Content, length, timing and structure of the Scottish Exempting Degree currently being offered
• The maintenance and overall quality of standards in Programme feedback and assessment
• The continuing appropriateness of the Scottish Exempting Degree structure as well as Outcomes
• The relationship of the Scottish Exempting Degree to PEAT 1, PEAT 2 and Trainee CPD in order to avoid drift within the Society’s overall professional training programme
• Any other matters that arise from the monitoring of the Programmes that the Education and Training Policy Department would wish to bring to the attention of the Education and Training Committee.

APPENDIX B

EDUCATION PRACTICE GUIDELINES

INTRODUCTION

These guidelines summarise the Society's preferred approaches to learning, teaching and assessment in the Scottish Exempting Degree Programme as a route to fulfilling the requirements of the Foundation Programme. They are derived from global best practice in legal education, and from the Society’s wide-ranging consultation process on the future of legal education and training, held in three stages between late 2006 and early 2009 (‘the Consultation’).

Given the results of the Consultation, the Society has taken the policy decision that, in the future, it will be impossible to teach all areas of law or even come close to that and instead there should be a focused core of law that either underpins many areas of practice (e.g. contract), is pervasive across many areas of law (e.g. Human Rights), or is an area of law of which all practicing solicitors ‘should’ be aware (for example, the rights ‘reserved’ to solicitors by legislation).

This builds on the idea that there should be a focused ‘core’ at every stage of the education and training process, the Foundation Programme, PEAT 1 and PEAT 2. The main changes are:

(i) the introduction of Outcomes to the Foundation Programme. Outcomes will also be introduced at the PEAT 1 and PEAT 2 stages of legal education and training.

(ii) the new credit construction for the degree is designed to offer providers more flexibility in delivery of their courses.

(iii) a strong emphasis on integration between PEAT 1 and PEAT 2 stages.

Curriculum Design Principles and key features of the Foundation Programme

The Outcomes and their standards provide a sound basis for contemporary professional education, while acknowledging the role a law degree Programme will fulfil as a liberal arts degree also; one that is flexible for Providers whilst also capable of ensuring good practice and quality of standards across Providers. The move towards Outcomes for all stages of legal education and training is consistent with best practice in other professions and jurisdictions.

The key features that define the Foundation Programme are as follows:

1. Programme design and content by Foundation Providers should be intellectually rigorous.

2. The Foundation Programme Curriculum consists of Outcomes (these are explained immediately below)
3. Outcomes and standards in the Foundation Programme should be used by Providers as design guides for performance, and by students as guides to what Outcomes must be achieved prior to full qualification. Performance thus becomes a benchmark of competence. However, checklists, competences and Outcomes lists can only determine general adequate performance. The programme design, and providers operating within it, should encourage students’ individual voices and interests, and the development of personal responsibility for engaging with legal practice, with ethics and justice, and undertaking legal education and training.

4. The overall length of The Scottish Exempting Degree Programme should be not less than 240 credits in the study of legal subjects in a degree programme (or combination of degree programmes) containing 240, 360 or 480 credits on the SCQF Framework at a level of SCQF 7/8 or above. Of those 240 credits of law, not less than 180 credits must be devoted to study towards meeting the Outcomes.

5. The Foundation is the first stage of legal education and training and is followed by Professional Education and Training (which is made up of two parts – PEAT 1 and PEAT 2).

Outcomes and Programme Content

The Foundation Programme learning outcomes comprise a description of the:

- knowledge that students will possess (e.g. legal systems and institutions affecting Scotland);

- skill learners should be able to perform by the end of programme of study (divided into subject specific skills; general transferable intellectual skills; and key personal skills); and

- values and attitudes

The Outcomes are designed to provide the ‘core’ for the Foundation Programme of legal education and training and are intended to provide a clear statement against which qualifications for entry to the legal profession can be mapped.

The Outcomes group the knowledge domains and skills together and reflect clearly the desirability of integration of knowledge and skills. The Outcomes can be used by providers to assist in framing criteria for marking assessments. The Outcomes can be used by providers to assist in framing criteria for marking assessments.

Outcomes of the Foundation Programme

The Outcomes (see Appendix A) reflect the core requirements of the Foundation

The knowledge Outcomes
The Outcomes relating to knowledge and sources of law require students to be able to display a fundamental knowledge and understanding of the purpose and sources of law, and the main elements of public and private law in Scotland in the context of the UK, EU and wider international setting.

In summary the following areas of knowledge are contained in the focused core:

- Legal systems and Institutions affecting Scotland;
- Commerce
- Property
- Obligations
- Crime
- Persons

It may be noted that Providers are entitled to teach additional areas of knowledge and this is explained more fully in the section below entitled: The ‘volume’ and ‘level’ of the Foundation Programme.

For example, International Private Law is not included in the Outcomes. However, this does not preclude the inclusion of International Private Law or aspects of International Private Law within a Foundation Programme: The study of International Private Law might, for example, provide good evidence of the learning of Scots Law in its wider EU and International context.

Another example is Employment Law. It may be noted that the Outcomes require an applicant to demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of statute-based involuntary obligations and thus allow for, although they do not require, the inclusion of Employment Law (or other key statutory areas of law such as Health and Safety) within a Foundation Programme.

The skills Outcomes

The Outcomes relating to skills require students to acquire a basic competence in specified skills in the categories of subject specific skills; general transferable intellectual skills; and key personal skills. It is expected that these skills will be taught pervasively throughout the degree Programme.

The values Outcomes

The Outcomes relating to values require students to display subject-specific legal and ethical values. It is expected that these values will be taught pervasively throughout the degree Programme.

It is expected that suitably qualified members of the legal profession in Scotland will be involved in the design, the delivery or the review of the Programme.

Learning and assessment

All of the Outcomes of the Foundation Programme need not be achieved solely in courses relating to the knowledge Outcomes in Appendix A. They could, for example, be achieved in free-standing skills courses or in courses on topics which are not included in the required knowledge Outcomes.

It will, however, be for an applicant to demonstrate that all of the Outcomes have been achieved to the appropriate ‘volume’ and ‘level’ (as to which see further below).

The way in which it is recommended the Foundation Programme should be formulated will allow applicants and providers to demonstrate relevance rather than prescribing the design of teaching and assessment at each stage.

It is recognised that the processes of learning and assessment in a Foundation Programme must be consistent with fostering enduring skills and an understanding of the relevance of the Outcomes to the role of a legal professional, thus preparing applicants for the next stage of professional legal education and training. This must be demonstrated in the context of (a) summative assessment, the nature and level of which is approved by external examiners and (b) accreditation. In addition to other methods of assessment, applicants are expected to place emphasis on practical problems solving.

The following general principles apply:

1. Assessment must be valid
   - Assessment must be valid according to the Outcomes. A variety of evidence is probably the best method of ensuring validity of assessment.

2. Assessment must be reliable
   - Assessment ought to produce reliable data about student knowledge and skill. Reliability can be tested by a number of methods – the use of statistical co-efficients, the use of observers, the monitoring of inter-rater reliabilities, and test > re-test reliability of candidates’ abilities or knowledge are some of them.

3. Assessment must be fair
   - Assessments ought to be constructed so that they are fair to all candidates. Where appropriate, for instance, fresh scenarios should be constructed so that there is no unfair advantage in first approach to an assessment.

4. Assessment must be feasible
   - All the above three qualities must be viewed in the light of what is feasible or practicable for a Foundation Provider to arrange as regards assessment. There is little point in highly complex assessments which may well achieve high reliability if performed well, but which are performed poorly because they are too complex to achieve their results.

5. Assessment ought to be aligned with the Outcomes of the Programme
   - The student learning experience lies at the heart of the new programme, and teaching and resources should be aligned to ensure that this experience is meaningful, challenging and relevant. Learning should be both individual- and group-based. It should involve use of a variety of learning resources, and providers should ensure that student learning is aligned to assessment. Learning activities should be imaginatively designed, well-resourced and should support student learning. It is the duty of the providers to state how their assessment programme helps students to achieve the Outcomes of the course as stated by the Society. Where required, Providers should design more detailed task objectives than the Outcomes provided by the Society.

6. Outcomes and assessment objectives should be embedded in the key tasks to be undertaken in any module.
   It is not feasible to assess every item of knowledge, skill or value or attitude on a programme, and therefore a Foundation Provider will require to identify those task objectives which are representative of the more general learning outcomes, and structure assessment around these.

7. Assessment should include multiple assessment points and observations
   Formative feedback should be given to students throughout the degree Programme; and where feasible, assessments should give both staff and students data that will show a line of improvement or failure to meet Outcomes. Pre-specified standards of performance should be available to staff, students, external examiners and the Society. In particular, such standards should indicate the criteria under which borderline pass or fail performance is judged.

The ‘volume’ and ‘level’ of the Scottish Exempting Degree

The Programme of study for an accredited Scottish Exempting Degree must include the study of legal subjects for the equivalent of not less that two years. In the context of the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework (SCQF), this means:

- In the case of a student studying a graduate entry two-year accelerated degree, the Programme must include study of 180 SCQF credits towards meeting the Outcomes within a degree programme of not fewer than 240 credits of law overall taught at SCQF level 7/8 or above
- In the case of a student studying an Ordinary degree, the Programme must include study of 180 SCQF credits towards meeting the Outcomes and 240 SCQF credits in law within a degree programme of not fewer than 360 credits taught at level 7/8 or above
- In the case of a student studying an Honours degree, the Programme must include study of 180 SCQF credits towards meeting the Outcomes and 240 SCQF credits in law within a degree programme of not fewer than 480 credits taught at level 7/8 or above.

One credit equates to 10 hours of learning (including, in appropriate combination, contact hours, reading, preparation and directed learning). A minimum of 180 credits should be allocated to study towards meeting the Outcomes within 240 credits of law. That equates to 1800 hours of learning, or the equivalent of 9 taught courses. To increase the core credit requirement beyond that which applies already is inconsistent with the desire to ensure focused core professional education within a broader experience of higher education.
Adhering to 180 credits of core within 240 credits of law allows students and Providers the flexibility to explore other areas of law, of legal practice and of other disciplines not covered in the Outcomes, consistent with the view that the Foundation Programme’s requirements should not be entirely prescriptive. Combined with the levels of achievement mentioned below, this equates to a standard equivalent to a non-honours LLB for the Foundation Programme.

The policy of the Society is that each entrant to the profession should have engaged in degree level, or equivalent, study, although not necessarily within the field of Scots Law. Nevertheless it is recognised that most entrants to higher education who aspire to a career in law wish to obtain a first law degree and will continue to do so. It is also recognised that any combination of degree and further study to achieve the requirements of the Foundation Programme involves extended commitment of time and money by the student and that the first degree itself, although free of tuition fees to students in Scotland from Scotland, places a significant financial burden on students and their families. The Society has this in mind when promoting flexible pathways for learning that could be followed while earning to support the cost of the legal education or taken in a reduced time-frame.

The law element of learning should be at SCQF Level 7/8 or above (or its equivalent). (i.e. ordinary degree level). It may be the case that applicants might be able to provide evidence of having achieved some or all of the Outcomes in the Foundation Programme in Honours level courses and thus at a higher level than that required. There is no requirement that a proportion of the Foundation Programme should be at SCQF level 9 or higher, but all work done at all levels of degree education as well as in assessed courses of instruction which sit alongside degree level study of law may count towards satisfying the requirements of the Foundation Programme so long as it is at least SCQF level 7/8 equivalent.
APPENDIX C

GENERAL ACCREDITATION STANDARDS

The Panel will take cognisance of a range of factors including those specified generally in this document and in the following Appendix D on ‘Specific Accreditation Standards’.

Furthermore, in forming their recommendation the following standards will inform the decision-making, therefore Applicants are encouraged to treat the following as a check-list in terms of the statement required as part of the application.

C.1 Clarity of information
C.2 Specificity of information, in relation to what is requested
C.3 Detail – adequate on which to form an opinion
C.4 Coverage – that all issues are addressed
C.5 Awareness of the state-of-the-art in relation to education, teaching, learning, methods, assessment, technology, resources needs, etc.
C.6 Evidence of commitment to the teaching of law and the associated resource implications
C.7 Evidence of commitment to research and/or development which informs the Outcomes of the Scottish Exempting Degree which are required by the Society
C.8 Evidence of leadership and a clear vision, mission, and objectives in relation to the delivery of legal education
C.9 Awareness of the needs and requirements of the legal profession in relation to legal education
C.10 Evidence of Quality Assurance activity, reviews and inspections - this will be persuasive in the decision making process. However, it should be noted that the role of the Society is accreditation of the Scottish Exempting Degree, a possible part of the pathway to qualification as a solicitor. Consequently the emphasis will be on the role of the Provider in preparing the students for stages of training subsequent to the Scottish Exempting Degree and for the profession, not on simply on general academic standing. Therefore, this document is separate to, and comes from a different perspective from, academic accreditation.

Failure in one or more of these general standards, as applied to the ‘specific standards’ should not necessarily prevent the accreditation, or the continuation of the accreditation, of a particular institution. However, where the Panel agree there is a pattern of these ‘general standards’ not being met across one of more of the ‘specific standards’ then it is likely that accreditation may require the submission of further documents, a visit, be conditional, or that it may be refused; dependent on the seriousness and frequency of the failings.

The Panel can waive, for a set period or for the whole period of accreditation, any standard, criteria, or condition contained within this document. The Panel will only do so where an Applicant has provided detailed information as to why the relevant criteria is not being going to be met along with an educationally justifiable alternative, solution, or substitute.
APPENDIX D

SPECIFIC ACCREDITATION STANDARDS

The Panel will take cognisance of a range of factors including those specified generally in this document and in the preceding Appendix C on ‘General Accreditation Standards’.

Furthermore, in forming their recommendation the following standards will inform the decision-making, therefore Applicants are encouraged to treat the following as a check-list in terms of the statement required as part of the application, also referred to in Appendix G which includes an application form.

D.1. General

The Society shall consider performance over the following range of standards, attributing appropriate degrees of importance to each of them in recognition that different Applicant institutions may have different qualities and strengths. The Society is not being prescriptive and provision of a matrix is required from Applicants. The Society shall award accreditation if performance against that range of standards is considered to be acceptable. Failure in one or more of these ‘specific standards’, as interpreted in light of the ‘general standards’, should not necessarily prevent the accreditation, or the continuation of the accreditation, of an Applicant. However, where the Panel agrees there is a pattern of these ‘specific standards’ not being met then it is likely that accreditation may require the submission of further documents, a visit, be conditional, or that it may be refused; dependent on the seriousness and frequency of the failings.

D.2 Curriculum structures and matrix

Section 3.4.2 requires Applicants to describe the Programme design in detail and also details what is required of the matrix.

Supporting statements are required in relation to:

(i) learning and teaching methods
(ii) use of resources
(iii) assessment methods

In relation to learning and teaching methods, provision of materials in relation to courses or modules for the purposes of accreditation should include module descriptors, details of any pre-Programme preparatory work, and two versions should be submitted – those submitted to students, those submitted to staff. Applicants must also provide a statement on the ways in which students are given formative feedback on their progress.

In relation to resources, Providers will be individually responsible for provision of Programme materials to students and tutors. These include text books, Programme handbooks, lecture, workshop and tutorial materials, self-assessment schedules, observational and peer-assessment schedules, open or distance learning materials, web-based teaching and learning, video, audio and multimedia materials. The content of the materials should be drawn up to meet the needs of the Programme.

Applicants should also demonstrate (i) how individual course assessments will be aggregated/combined (i.e. will all individual assessments need to be passed to pass the course), (ii) a general statement on how the marks from the courses will be aggregated/combined into the overall mark for the Programme, and (ii) an indication of at what stage in the timetable assessments for each course were likely to take place.

D.3. Minimum Areas of Programme Appraisal and Student Feedback

The following are minimum areas of feedback upon which the Panel would require each Applicant (or Provider, where at application stage it is not possible to collect the relevant information) to collect information on each Scottish Exempting Degree Programme offered. This is likely to be captured at accreditation, but because the Scottish Exempting Degree is a new course, also captured during the year 1 visit.

1. Effectiveness of matrix based approach to the Programme.
2. Effectiveness of programme administration, including communication with students before and during the programme
3. Relevance of class or workgroup activities to the achievement of the Outcomes
4. Quality of learning in tutorials, workshops and other forms of educational events
5. Preparation and organisation of teaching and teaching resources
6. Effectiveness of class content and delivery
7. Pace of teaching
8. Quality of tutor feedback
9. Quality of materials
10. Lists of action plans for improvement of the Programme
11. Records of improvement implementation.

There should be provision for assessment and feedback for students and internal quality assurance mechanisms should be adequate and appropriate for the attainment of the aims and objectives of the Scottish Exempting Degree and its individual Outcomes.
Programme appraisal data should be preserved for the duration of the accreditation. The results of the appraisals will inform the Applicant’s Annual Report to the Panel.

The Panel may ask students to complete a questionnaire based on the above and/or discuss the above or other matters with students during a monitoring visit.

D.4. Randomly Selected Examples of Student Work

The Applicant will be required to provide in the case of existing Providers, assessed work of the various classes of students who have completed the relevant modules or courses linked to the Outcomes along with the relevant instructions and assessment details and in the case of other Applicants, assessed work of the classes of students of the proposed Scottish Exempting Degree, along with the relevant instructions and assessment details or, where such scripts are not available, such other relevant examination scripts as may be appropriate for the purposes of accreditation. The Applicant need not/will not be asked to provide examples further back than the previous academic year. The Panel will make the relevant selection from the work received and consult with the external examiners with a view to ascertaining whether it meets the required standard for accreditation.

D.5. Staffing

D.5.1 Programme Director
An Applicant must nominate at least one person who will be the Programme Director and to whom correspondence with the Panel and the Society in general is addressed.

D.5.2 Staff Qualifications
Applicants seeking accreditation for their Scottish Exempting Degree programmes must ensure that teaching is delivered by staff who are appropriately qualified.

Appropriate qualifications would include the following:

(a) an undergraduate degree in law which included the study of the subject being taught, for example, an LLB from a Scottish University or similar degree from another appropriate jurisdictions, or
(b) a higher degree in law which included the study of research in the subject being taught (for example, LLM, MSc, JD or PhD), or
(c) substantial scholarly publications in the field, or
(d) substantial experience of teaching in the subject, or
(e) substantial experience as a legal practitioner in the subject in Scotland or in another appropriate jurisdiction, or
(f) other qualifications or experience which demonstrate the aptitude and knowledge necessary to deliver teaching to the appropriate standard.
In relation to professional input, it is expected that suitably qualified members of the legal profession in Scotland would be involved in either the design, the delivery or the review of the Programme. Applicants will be expected to demonstrate such involvement in their application documentation.

Providers will be asked to report annually on breakdown of staff qualifications and the involvement of the profession, and the Society may intervene if it is felt that either interest is being compromised.

All of those involved in advising students about course option, careers and the route to qualification must use official, up-to-date information which has been approved by the Society, where that is provided.

Details of criminal convictions/bankruptcy or sequestration orders/sanctions imposed by the Society, the Scottish Legal Complaints Commission, or the Scottish Solicitors Discipline Tribunal on a solicitor qualified member of staff require to be disclosed in the application for accreditation.

D.5.3 Staff Development

Applicant institutions are expected to have appropriate staff development policies including induction and monitoring for new staff. Areas covered should include:

- Skills teaching
- Small group teaching
- Assessment
- Equal Opportunities and Diversity
- Pastoral duties

All academic staff (and first time appointments in particular) should be encouraged to receive training under the auspices of the Higher Education Academy, or an equivalent overseas qualification.

D.5.4 Staff Load

Class contact hours for part time and full time staff should be reasonable and for full time staff, a maximum load would not normally exceed 200 hours a year of timetabled classes.

D.5.5 Staff Ratio and Student Ratio

A maximum acceptable student/staff ratio should be 30:1 FTE students to full time staff. Where classes exceed this ratio, the Applicant should include in accreditation documentation an explanation of the circumstances of this decision.

It is important that universities seeking accreditation offer the Scottish Exempting Degree as an integrated programme of learning in law so that students derive the benefits which flow from following a common programme of study. This principle does not imply that Scottish Exempting Degree students may not be taught along with students on other programmes. However, where Scottish Exempting Degree students are taught along with those on other programmes
Providers must take steps to ensure (i) that the aims and intended learning outcomes, methods of teaching and assessment and standards of assessment of the modules in question are those appropriate to the Outcomes of the Scottish Exempting Degree programme, and (ii) that the combining of different groups of students does not have an adverse effect on the teaching or assessment of Scottish Exempting Degree students.

It is understood that there will normally be no objection to Scottish Exempting Degree students receiving lectures along with students on other programmes. However, it is expected that Scottish Exempting Degree students will normally form the great majority of students in any seminar, tutorial or other small group teaching session at which student interaction is expected.

A maximum acceptable staff/student ratio for small group work/tutorials/seminars/workshops should be 1:20 tutors to students. Where classes exceed this ratio, the Applicant should include in accreditation documentation an explanation of the circumstances of this decision.

Any ratio is acceptable in large group teaching.

D.6. Teaching Accommodation and Support

Applicants are required to demonstrate that the Scottish Exempting Degree will be delivered in appropriate teaching and learning accommodation. Teaching accommodation should be adequate and appropriate for the attainment of the aims and objectives of an Scottish Exempting Degree and the individual learning Outcomes. This will include provision of:

- Accessible facilities
- Teaching furniture eg whiteboards, flipcharts, OHPs, data projectors
- Library materials: primary law, practitioner texts, secondary texts, journals, electronic sources (Westlaw, Lexis Nexis) etc
- AV equipment
- Computer provision appropriate to use of ICT on the Scottish Exempting Degree

D.7. Student access to resources and ICT

Students should have appropriate access to law cases and periodicals to support the achievement of Outcomes. The Applicant should be in possession of adequate or better library resources. A separate law library is desirable but it is acceptable for the great bulk of the law holdings to be in the main library providing that this is reasonably close to where the students’ other teaching and learning activities take place.

Applicants are required to demonstrate how their holdings and facilities in the library, both paper and electronic, support the achievement of the Outcomes.
The appropriate use of information and communications technology, including computer based learning and Internet, is expected. There should be a sufficient ratio of students to computers to allow the aims and objectives of each module to be fully realised using university facilities.

D.8 Student Information

The following information in relation to students is required by the Society, throughout the period of accreditation:

- Details of the Applicant’s admission policy and criteria should be supplied. The Society sets no standards for Providers but requires such information to inform policy in relation to the Society’s own professional examinations and to allow reporting on access to education.

- Providers must use best endeavours to ensure that student permission is sought to allow it to supply student information to the Society. In relation to students who give this permission, a provider will supply an Excel file at the start of semester 1 which contains students’ first names, family names, and email address.

- Where student councils and student law societies are present at a Provider the contact details for the officer bearers must be passed on to the Society within 4 weeks of the commencement of semester 1.

- The Society has its own voluntary methods of communicating with students. However, in the event that the Society considers that it is critical to contact students directly through the Provider, the Society will give a minimum of one week’s notice before sending emails to students. The Society will limit such communications to critical information.

- Providers require to collaborate with the Society on marketing the Society’s visits to students, including their importance.

- Providers should notify the Society of careers events taking place throughout the year, so that the Society may support the marketing of those events.

- Providers must be willing to have staff provide standardised references, where a graduate of the Scottish Exempting Degree applies to the Society for an Entrance Certificate and requires a reference.

It will normally be construed as a breach of accreditation if a PEAT 1 Provider accepts a student who has not achieved all of the Outcomes. Providers are required to liaise with PEAT 1 Providers to ensure that student achievement of the Outcomes are clear before places on PEAT 1 are offered.
D.9. Quality of Research and Publications

Scottish Exempting Degrees should emanate from a department where staff are research active. Applicants are required to provide evidence of the research profile of staff, including where appropriate details of submission to and achievement in the Research Assessment Exercise and/or the Research Evaluation Framework and such other evidence of research activity as is acceptable to the Society.

D.10. Diversity and Equal Opportunities

The Society has responsibilities in relation to equality and diversity under the relevant legislation, covering its public and regulatory functions, its operation as a qualifications body and as a membership organisation. As part of its commitment to meeting the requirements of this body of legislation the Society needs to be assured that issues of Diversity are taken into all decision making and policy setting.

Applicants are, therefore, required to provide information on Equal Opportunities and Diversity within their institution, faculty, and department. This information should include:

- Equal Opportunities statement of the Provider
- Details of schemes and arrangements for promoting access
- Details of arrangements, accessibility and support services for people with a range of disabilities
- A statement on work undertaken to ensure that assessment methodologies and teaching methods do not discriminate on Diversity related criteria
- Information on how issues of discrimination, diversity, good relations and cultural understanding are taught pervasively through the curriculum
- Information on diversity of students in so far as it is available
APPENDIX E

EXTERNAL EXAMINING SYSTEM

Each Provider must appoint external examiners covering all of the Outcomes and ensure these examiners report annually.

The Scottish Exempting Degree system is aligned with the QAA Code of Practice, Section 4 – External Examining issued in September 2004, the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework and the statutory function of the Society in matters of the education and training of solicitors.

Function of the external examiner on the Scottish Exempting Degree Programme

The primary purposes of the external examiner system are to report on:

- whether the academic standards set for the Provider’s awards are appropriate;
- the extent to which the Provider’s assessment processes are rigorous, ensure equity of treatment for students and have been fairly conducted within institutional regulations and guidance (this being informed by reviewing actual assessed work);
- the standards of student performance in the Programmes or parts of Programmes which they have been appointed to examine;

Through their reports the external examiners assist the Society in

- the comparison of standards and student achievement across the Providers of the Scottish Exempting Degree
- the identification and dissemination of good practice.

Duties of an External Examiner:

These are varied and contained in the QAA Code of Practice. Of specific interest to the Society is:

- the requirement to ensure that the standard of any award which is recommended by the Board of Examiners, of which they are a member, is comparable to the standard of similar awards in other Scottish Exempting Degree Programmes of which they have experience.

Criteria for the appointment of external examiners:

External examiners will normally be drawn from persons with experience of examining in one or more of the accredited Scottish Exempting LLB Degree Programmes or LLB degrees or from the existing or former professional examiners of the Society or of the Faculty of Advocates. Where they do not come possess such experience the Applicant should be prepared to justify the appointment on the basis of other skills and experience.
External examiner feedback

After final meetings of Boards of Examiners, each external examiner is required to complete a questionnaire and submit this, together with a written substantive report. Copies of these reports should be submitted electronically to the Society, as part of the Annual Report.

Checklist of documentation to be made available to external examiners

- Outcomes and Appendix B specifically, together with the matrix and supporting statements provided by the Applicant to the Society mapping the Outcomes to the course construction
- These Guidelines
- Student Programme Handbook, including detailed module information
APPENDIX F

DISTANCE-LEARNING AND E-LEARNING GUIDELINES

Distance- and e-learning methods involve the delivery of materials at a distance to students. They also involve the construction of sophisticated supervision and communication with students, so that teaching and learning are integrated most effectively. The following sets of guidelines outline many aspects of best practice in distance- and e-learning, and we would strongly advise any Provider wishing to offer modules on this basis to consider them as indicative of the criteria that the Panel would apply to the modules.
